ONLY QUARTER OF RAILWAYMEN WILL WALK OUT

If Strike occurs 500,000 Will Quit; 1,500,000 Will Stay On Job.

SIGNALMEN UNDECIDED

Believe Latter Organization Will Not Join Strike of Brotherhoods.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Peace in the railroad strike situation was proposed in a statement issued today by the U. S. Labor Board.

"There is great reason to hope," the board's statement said, "that the strike will be averted."

The words quoted are the first official expression of opinion from the board that there was prospect that the strike scheduled for October 30, would be settled. Without giving its reasons for so believing, the board made it emphatically clear that it considered a settlement highly probable.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Except for the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, which has not yet determined its course of action, organized railway labor's lines are drawn today for the strike scheduled to begin on Oct. 30. The signal men probably will not make definite announcement of their decision before Wednesday.

Roughly speaking, if a strike occurs, 500,000 union men will walk out and 1,500,000 will remain at work. Six unions at least will join in the strike while at least nine, and possibly ten, will refuse to participate in any strike at this time.

The signal men are the only important railway labor organization that has not declared their position in the controversy. Officials of this union have sent out ballots asking authority to act from the membership and returns from these ballots will be known Wednesday, it was announced.

The union numbers about 17,000 members, but because of the technical nature of their work they are an important cog in the strike plans.

As predicted Saturday, the International brotherhood of stationary firemen and oilers and the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees, voted to follow the lead of the six shopcrafts unions and the maintenance of way employees by refusing to join in the strike at this time. These two unions have a combined membership of more than 350,000 men.

The belief was current in union circles today that the signal men would follow the lead of the other unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and refuse to join the strike.

The unions, that will go out on strike, if a strike takes place, are the so-called "big five," comprising the trainmen, conductors, engineers, firemen, and enginemen and the switchmen. The "big five" will be joined by the order of Railway Telegraphers. The combined membership of these six organizations is approximately 45,000.

The unions that already have decided not to strike are the six shopcrafts organizations, including the car men, electrical workers, blacksmiths, sheet metal workers, machinists and boiler makers, the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Shop Laborers, and the clerks and stationery firemen and oilers. These organizations have an approximate membership of 1325,000.

BROTHERHOODS ARE FIRM IN DECISION

Cleveland, Oct. 24.—It will require substantial concessions by the railway executives, far beyond anything they have thus far indicated a willingness to do, to avert the nation wide railroad strike scheduled to begin Oct. 30. This is the view expressed by union leaders here this morning after a series of conferences which have lasted almost all day for three successive days.

The defection of railroad unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor has neither surprised nor worried the chiefs of the "big four" according to all indications here.

While in deference to the railway labor board, a body created by law to hear and decide disputes between railways and their employees, none of the leaders wish to be directly quoted, the I. N. S. learn authoritatively this morning that the following represents the minimum which the men representing the "big four" and the switchmen's union will consider adequate as terms of a settlement.

1—Retention of all seniority rules and working conditions, obtained through many years of negotiation.

2-Withdrawal by the railroads of the proposal for a further wage cut.

3—A definite promise from the railway executives that the policy of "union baiting" said by union leaders to be in general effect be abandoned and that the roads keep their contracts with the union in letter and spirit.

The union leaders do not believe that these demands will be granted, unless the president intervenes as they have heretofore been rejected by the railway executives.

Former Emperor Charles Tool of France Is Charge

German Militarist Papers Contend Leader Used by French—Germany Looking to Future With Anxiety Following Late Trouble—High Feeling Aroused.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—"Charles is the tool of France," was the watchword of the whole German press today from the militarist junker newspapers to the organs of the communists and independent socialists.

What the German monarchists would have hailed as the greatest boon to their cause, if it had been undertaken by anybody else, is bitterly condemned because Charles is now regarded as the instrument of France in what is branded her scheme to bring Austria-Hungary under her domination and create a Catholic south German state, including Bavaria under Hapsburg rule. Germany has been hostile to Charles ever since war days when, in the midst of the conflict he made overtures for a separate peace to the allies. The Germans contend that he cannot be trusted.

All eyes in Berlin now are turned towards Bavaria, the stronghold of German royalist reaction. However, all has been quiet so far and there have not even been any monarchist demonstrations attempted.

Germany is looking to the future anxiously fearing that the monarchist coup in Hungary may be the forerunner of graver events which will give France the background for military demonstrations at the Washington conference.

The situation is further complicated by the cabinet crisis over Upper Silesia and the political confusion which has followed the resignation of the Wirth ministry.

Charles' exploit coming on the heels of the French victory in the Upper Silesian decision has aroused high feeling. Germany is left rudderless in the midst of a double crisis—political and economic.

It is realized that the Austrian republic would be gravely menaced if sixty thousand well armed royalist troops should march upon Vienna.

FUGITIVE BANKER KILLS SELF; WAS "BROKE" AT TIME

Daughter of Warren C. Spurgin Leaves For Miami, Florida

Miami, Fla., Oct. 24.—Denial that the body found in the Pershing hotel here Friday is that of Warren C. Spurgin, missing president of the Michigan Avenue Trust Company of Chicago, was made here today by Chicagoans in this city. The suicide, it was stated, was a man of only five feet six inches, while Spurgin, it is said, was six feet, three inches. The dead man here weighs 165 pounds, while Spurgin, it is declared, weighed a hundred pounds more than this figure.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Miss Vivian Spurgin, daughter of Warren C. Spurgin, absconding Chicago banker, left here today for Miami, Fla., where her father was discovered a suicide in his room in the Pershing hotel to confirm the identification of the body and bring it back for burial.

Spurgin shot himself through the forehead. His body was identified by W. F. Bennett, of Miami, a former Chicago broker, who up to two years ago was an intimate friend of the fugitive banker. Spurgin had registered at the hotel as "C. Hayden, New York." Publication of "Hayden's" photograph in a local paper resulted in the identification. Bennett recognizing the picture as that of Spurgin.

Spurgin, who disappeared on July 21, following the discovery of a $1,000 shortage in the accounts of the Michigan Avenue Trust Company, of which he was president, was "broke" when he killed himself, according to reports from Miami.

Two More Suspects Are Apprehended

Paris, Oct. 24.—Two more suspects were arrested today in connection with the attempt to assassinate Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador, with a bomb. The police investigation reveals that the package was the last mailed at the branch post office in the Latin Quarter last Tuesday night before the office closed. The sender waited until the last moment hoping that his identity would be overlooked in the last minute bustle.

PEACE OR WAR TO BE OUTCOME OF CONFERENCE

Lloyd George Believes That Double Obstacle Will Be Overcome.

HOPE PREVAILS

Monday's Session of Irish Parleys Held To Be Critical.

London, Oct. 24.—Peace or war hangs upon the outcome of this afternoon's session of the Irish peace conference. Although the press was pessimistic, the trend of opinion in official quarters was more cheerful than previously.

British delegates held a conference during the morning to consider the reply which Premier Lloyd George had promised to make in the house of commons to the question whether he would continue the parley in view of the telegram which Eamonn DeValera had sent to the pope. In this telegram DeValera declared the Sinn Fein would insist upon independence for Ireland.

Michael Collins, commander in chief of the Irish republican army, and one of the leading members of the Irish delegation has returned from Dublin where he consulted with DeValera.

The opinion prevailed in authoritative circles that while the conference may be postponed, it is unlikely that it will be broken off. It was admitted however, that collapse is possible and that such a contingency would be followed by a renewal of war.

"I do not anticipate a break this evening, whatever may happen during the week," said Michael Collins at Irish headquarters, just before leaving for the premier's official residence.

Premier Lloyd George personally is hopeful the double obstacle presented by DeValera's message to Rome and the stubborn attitude of Ulster province may be overcome. In foreign office circles it was believed unlikely that the premier would have to cancel his trip to Washington over the Irish issue although developments in central Europe are causing some anxiety.

Opposition to Charles seemed to center today in Belgrade. Jugo-Slavia is determined to use all the means at her disposal for prevention of the restoration of the hapsburg monarchy. Although Jugo-Slavia and Italy are at odds over the Albanian issue in the Balkans they are standing shoulder to shoulder on the Hungarian problem. A Belgrade dispatch said that the Italian minister had notified Jugo-Slavia that Italy will support the little entente in any move it makes to check the royalist movement in the old dual monarchy.

CONGRESSMAN FESS PREPARING TO TRY FOR SENATE SEAT

(Columbus Dispatch) Whether they have direct information from the governor that he is not to be a candidate for the senatorial nomination will seek another term in the governor's office or are just assuming that he will do so, because as they see it, it is the logical thing to do, the other aspirants for the senatorial nomination on the Republican ticket are plainly getting their guns in position for action. Dispatches from Washington state that Congressman S. D. Fess is letting it be plainly known that he is already in the field and improving every opportunity to push along his candidacy for the nomination.

And he knows that he is not alone in this matter. Our surmise that Carmi A. Thompson of Cleveland is to be a contestant for the honor is borne out by the fact that he has placed his interests in the hands of a Columbus man, who is quietly setting up the pins all over the state in his favor. The name of this lieutenant of the Thompson boom has not been given out, but he is said to be William H. Miller, formerly of Clinton county, who was assistant attorney general under the administration of that office by both Wade H. Ellis and U. G. Denman.

Nick Longworth has said little about his own candidacy since his return to Washington from a political tour of the state in the interest of his chances, but it is learned that he is not certain yet that he wants to exchange the sure thing of indefinite service in the lower house at this time for what looks, to say the least, like an uncertainty in the

Both Fess and Longworth are a little disconcerted by the close play with the White House that is being made by Colonel Thompson, and they are inclined to fear that any one who assumes to contend with the colonel for the senatorship will find himself in an equal race, with the influence of the president against him. Beyond this, too, there lies the uncertainty of the polls with an able opponent such as Senator Pomerene is sure to prove.

It is evident the construction of what the farmers think extremely high priced country roads under the direction of the county commissioners is to be an important issue in the 1922 local elections and particularly the selection of county commissioners in the elections of next year. The fight against this sort of thing that has been started by several of the prosecuting attorneys and the campaign that is being led by Senator Brand of Champaign county is really based on farmer land owner protests against heavy assessments on their acres, at a time when those acres are least able to bear them. Slowly the ire of the farmers is rising, and the candidates for county commissioner in all the counties are likely to get in the way of that wrath unless they prove an alibi. Many of them can thank their lucky stars that by reason of the passage of a new law of the legislature their terms have been extended and they will not have to come up for re-election until 1924.

Will Command World's Largest Ship.

The distinction of commanding the world's largest ship, the 56,000-ton Majestic, now nearing completion for the White Star Line, to ply between New York and Southampton has been conferred on Sir Bertram Hayes, at present commander of the Olympic. Both ships are owned by an American concern, the International Mercantile Marine Company. The Majestic was built by the Germans, to lead the merchant fleets of the world, and while still unfinished was turned over by them to the Reparations Commission, under the Versailles Treaty. She is 956 feet long, and her interior space is equal to that of 400 eight-room suburban houses. Sir Bertram Hayes, a native of Birkenhead, is fifty seven years old and a bachelor. He has many friends in the United States.

WILMINGTON HIGH DEFEATS WASHINGTON

The improved and rejuvenated Wilmington high school football team defeated Washington high at Wilmington, Friday, 41-0.

Because of old and intense rivalry between the two teams, the victory was the sweetest that the Quakers will pick from this season's schedule.

While the preps were battling to a victory at the College oil long, Coach Chick Harper's Wilmington College athletes, were treating Franklin College, of Franklin, Indiana, to a surprise party in the shape of 20-7 defeat. The Collegians have not lost a game under Harper's direction this season, which is quite a change from last season's record when Wilmington did not win a game and only made one touchdown against opponents.

Who Pays

for Good Advertising Nobody!

Some very interesting facts concerning advertising expenditures, expressed as percentages of total sales, were published recently in New York.

Arrow Collars, spends, of its total receipts, 3.5; Fatima Cigarettes, 5; Ivory Soap, 3; Kodaks, 3; Old Dutch Cleanser, 10; Phonographs, 5; Sears, Roebuck & Co., 10; Velvet Tobacco, 6; Welch's Grape Juice, 10; Wrigley Chewing Gum, 14.

The old time-worn conundrum, 'Who pays for the advertising?' is still propounded by some occasional moss-covered or mil-dewed mind. All sanitary, dustproof mentalities have long since stopped bothering, for being advertising fans they prefer the answer of the enthusiastic ad. salesman: "Nobody pays for it."

Nobody pays for the labor-saving machine that reduces factory overhead and increases production—it pays for itself.

Nobody pays for the motor truck installation that decreases delivery charges by increased efficiency—it pays for itself.

Nobody pays for the advertising that cuts down selling costs and puts business on a quantity basis—it pays for itself.

TINDALL—BRANSON
NUPTIALS SATURDAY

The marriage of Miss Gretta Anna Branson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swaine Branson, of Spokane, Wash., to Elton Tindall, of Selma, former Xenian, was celebrated Saturday evening at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith of Selma.

The house was decorated for the nuptials in smilax, maiden hair fern and asters, a color arrangement of green and white being used. The service was read in the living room before a high mantel which was banked with white chrysanthemums and smilax. The Rev. V. E. Busler, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Cedarville, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Della Newlin, minister of the Friends Church at Selma.

A musical program was rendered before the service. Donald Calvert sang "Because," and "At Dawn," to a piano accompaniment by Miss Cathryn Scanland of Spiceland, Ind. Miss Scanland played McDowell's "To a Wild Rose," followed by the wedding march from Lohengrin. The bridegroom entered with his best man, Newell Elger, and they were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Blanche Baumgardner, wearing a frock of Nile green taffeta. Virginia Smith and Gretchen Tindall, the flower girls wore white net frocks and carried baskets of flowers which they strewed in the path of the bride. The bride who was escorted by her uncle, Mr. Smith, wore a bridal robe of Canton crepe and a veil which was fastened in her hair with a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore only one ornament, a cameo pin, the gift of the bridegroom, who brought the exquisite bit of ivory from Italy. She carried a shower of roses and maiden hair fern.

Following the service supper was served, covers for ten being laid at the bride's table. Mr. and Mrs. Tindall are now on a honeymoon trip. They will be at home in Selma where Mr. Tindall is in the grocery business. He conducted a grocery in Xenia for several years. He is an overseas veteran of the World War.

SILVER WEDDING IS CELEBRATED.

"Forest Home," the residence of Mr. Andrew Jackson of Cedarville, was a scene of a happy event on last Friday, October 21, when Mr. and Mrs. R. G. George of Jamestown celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Mrs. George is the eldest daughter of Mr. Jackson.

About one hundred guests were received in the afternoon and about sixty in the evening.

"Forest Home" used to be the scene of many happy social functions, but has been closed for a number of years since the death of Mrs. Jackson, until Friday, when it was again opened to the hospitality of friends to celebrate the silver wedding anniversary.

The home was artistically decorated for the occasion with silver bells hung with bright silver cord from all the electric lights and in the doorways. Large pink chrysanthemums and Columbia roses, which were sent by friends, filled silver loving cups and added to the beauty of the decorations.

Although the invitations indicated "no presents," Mr. and Mrs. George were recipients of many handsome gifts.

Those who received the guests were Mrs. Lincoln Farquhar of Jamestown, friend and neighbor of Mrs. George, and her sister, Mrs. H. H. Cherry, of Xenia, who presented them to Mr. Jackson and Mrs. Limerick, the latter a sister of Mrs. Jackson, and also to the bride and groom of twenty-five years.

Mrs. Homer Smith and Mrs. Robert Turnbull of Jamestown, Mrs. F. A. Jackson of Xenia, Mrs. I. C. Davis, Mrs. Dora Kerr, Mrs. Elizabeth Blair, Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. Melvin McMillan and Miss Esther Townsley of Cedarville assisted in serving refreshments.

LITTLE FOLKS ENJOY SUNDAY SCHOOL PARTY

Witches, ghosts and pumpkin lanterns gave the proper touch to the Haloween masque party which the little folks of the Sunday school of Christ Church enjoyed Friday evening. The affair was held in the second story of the parish house, which is now used by the church for congregational gatherings. Miss Charles A. Santmyer and Miss Ruth Ross were in charge of the party, and the children had a merry time.

Richard Adair, who was dressed as "Little Bo Peep," even to the curly wig which completed his female impersonation, and little Miss Dorothy Lawson, as a sun bonnet girl received prizes for making the most attractive appearance in their masque costumes. Other contests and potato and peanut races were held later. The children received as favors witches cleverly fashioned out of clothespins which were made by the young folks at the mid week evening class which is in charge of Miss Santmyer. This class has been making toys, scrap book sand other articles for hospitals.

Ginger cakes, pumpkin pie and cider were served to the children.

The guests spent the afternoon with their needle work, making many pretty things that were given to the bride. Advice to a bride was written by each guest also and presented to the young guest.

A two course luncheon was served by Mrs. Faulkner. Twenty-five people were named on her guest list.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN COMMON PLEAS COURT TO CHARGE

The Rev. S. Douglas McDuffie, colored evangelist of the African Methodist Episcopal denomination, indicted by the Grand Jury here on a charge of sodomy early this month, entered a plea of not guilty to the indictment in Common Pleas Court Monday afternoon.

McDuffie's bond was fixed at $1,000 by Judge Gowdy on appeal of his attorney, H. C. Armstrong, to lower the amount of the bond fixed by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court, when McDuffie was bound over to the Grand Jury, and which at that time was $1,500. Arrangements were being made by his attorneys to secure bail for their client, Monday afternoon.

McDuffie returned here, Saturday night from Houston, Texas, where he was conducting a revival, and where he was arrested on advice from local authorities. He was released following his arrest in Houston on what is known as a "fugitive bona" in Texas, and returned here, Saturday night, in company with a representative of his Houston bondsmen.

McDuffie conducted a revival here at John's A. M. E. Church, in August. Leaving here, he went west and later returned to Springfield where he was conducting a revival at a large colored church when he was arrested by Patrolman Charles Simms, on an affidavit sworn out by Lewis Leach, colored, East Main street restaurant proprietor, charging him with sodomy.

Aaigned in Police Court, McDuffie pleaded not guilty and at his hearing was bound over to the Grand Jury by Judge Smith. The Rev. Nichols, C. C. Turner, W. S. Rogers and R. E. Holmes signed McDuffie's bond for his appearance, and he left the city. Later he was indicted by the Grand Jury on the charge, and in the meantime Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson learned that he had been arrested on similar charges in North Carolina and in Georgia. In North Carolina McDuffie skipped bond and the bondsmen made good on the bond.

McDuffie's return to justice here resulted when he wrote to local bondsmen, offering to settle with them for $500 down, and $1,000 within 60 days, for skipping the bond. One of the local bondsmen notified authorities, and his arrest in Houston, Texas, followed. Since his arrival here, Saturday night, McDuffie has been held in the county jail.

McDuffie's home is in Albany, N. Y. The time of his trial has not yet been set.

"Terror of Shailerville" Faces Trial on Triple Murder Charge.

Emil Schutte, better known as the "Terror of Shailerville," is on trial in Middletown, Conn., charged with triple murder. Accused and deserted by his own family, Schutte entered court a broken man. All the bravado that had characterized the man, known in Shailerville and vicinity for years as a tyrant, deserted him as he was led to the bar to answer to the charges accusing him of the murder of Dennis Le Due, a farm hand, and two members of the Ball family, of Shailerville. Schutte is said to have set fire to the Ball home and then shot Mr. and Mrs. Ball as they fled for their lives. The bodies, burned to a crisp were found in the ruins of the burned home the following day. His own sons gave the information that resulted in Schutte's arrest. The accused man was a grocer in Shailerville and he lorded it over the town as did the feudal barons in the land of his Teutonic forebears. The photo shows Schutte

AUSTRIA PREPARES FOR OUTBREAK

Chalous, Sir Marne, France, Oct. 24.—Every place of business was closed and all citizens congregated around the city hall today while Edward F. Younger, a sergeant of the fifteenth infantry advanced into the chapel where lay the remains of four unknown American soldiers to pick the one to be buried in Arlington cemetery amid highest honors.

Sergeant Younger entered the chapel alone. Behind drawn curtains he could be seen to sharply salute each coffin in turn and finally deposited a white rose on one of the caskets. Returning he saluted Generals Allen and Rogers, after which the guard about the city hall reformed and marched away. Sergeant Younger then aided removal of the chosen casket to a chapel opposite where the body of the unknown soldier was embalmed and laid in a coffin brought from America for the purpose. The body will be buried in this coffin at Arlington cemetery.

P. R. R. MAINTENANCE OF WAY MEN PLEDGE SUPPORT IN CRISIS.

Representatives of 35,000 maintenance of way employees and railroad shop laborers have pledged their support to the Pennsylvania Railroad in case the threatened strike materializes.

That, with the acknowledgment of a union official, that the Pennsylvania Railroad employees have less cause to strike than those of any railroad in the country, strengthened the feeling that the threatened quitting of the engineers and firemen will be of little moment.

The union official who spoke favorably of conditions on the P. R. R. was H. E. Core, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen on the Pennsylvania Lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie. His organization, with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, are the only two bodies to vote for strike so far as is known.

"The Pennsylvania Railroad employees have the least reason for all to strike," said Mr. Core. "We have been fortunate in our relations with the officials of the company. We are the only road in the country to have an adjustment of working conditions in the last three years. Under the present arrangement we sit with the management once a month to settle grievances that may arise. To date the results have been most satisfactory."

"The only reason the Pennsylvania's firemen and engineers have voted to strike is the reduction in wages."

The maintenance of way and shop labor men pledged their support in a telegram sent the Executive Committee of the United Brotherhood, Maintenance of Way Employees, Railroad Shop Labor. The message follows:

"We, the officers of the Pennsylvania system division, United Brotherhood Maintenance of Way Employees, Railroad Shop Labor, assembled at Wilmington, wish to inform you that we are taking no part in the proposed strike and will notify the employees on the Pennsylvania system covered by our regulations to remain on their jobs and perform their own work."

The telegram was signed by L. I. Kennedy, general chairman.

A VENERABLE MATRON WHOM THE COUNTRY DELIGHTS TO HONOR.

Mrs. John A. Logan lives quietly in the city of Washington. Although she has reached the age of four score and three years, one will find her not merely a mental storehouse of memories, but a thoroughly up-to-date woman, full of the joy of living in the present, and for her fellow men.

We copy from a fine sketch of her published in the "National Republican":

Mrs. Logan, unlike many women, has been "born" to politics. "My father," she told me, "had been very active in politics, had been clerk of the court, sheriff of the county, marshal of the district, and, in the early days, registrar of the land office under Franklin Pierce. That was pretty far back, you see," she laughed. "He was a remarkable man and very fond of his family. We did everything he did. That is how I became interested in politics—because he was actively engaged in it much of the time. We were not allowed to participate in his activities without knowing something about our country. Our father insisted that all of his daughters know the Constitution of the United States, and we all learned it by heart."

"Education was at a low ebb in those days. My father taught me to write, and I remember that when I was but a little girl I wrote many letters for the illiterate whites, using my own language, however, to express their thought, for dictation was unknown. Later on I attended St. Vincent's convent, a branch of Nazareth, in the country near Morganfield, Ky."

Mrs. Logan was born at Petersburg, Boone county, Mo., Aug. 15, 1838, of Captain John M. and Elizabeth H. Cunningham. She was married to John A. Logan, November 27, 1855, when she was but seventeen years of age. The couple lived happily together until 1886, when General Logan died, a period of 31 years. "But it was all too short," said his widow, "when people were as happy as we were."

GOOD RESULTS FROM OUR NEW IMMIGRATION LAW.

Immigration of unskilled labor to the United States is virtually at a standstill as a result of the first three months' operation of the Immigration Restriction Law that became effective June 3. The law is stemming the tide that before the war flowed to the United States at the rate of more than 500,000 unskilled workers a year.

Commissioner Husband, of the Immigration Bureau, who has just completed a study of the operation of the law, says:

"The greater proportion of immigration under the law must come, because of the quota arrangement, from Northern Europe, the United Kingdom, Holland and the Scandinavian countries. Italy, Greece, Turkey and other countries of Southern Europe can send proportionately only a few persons."

"Immigrants from Northern Europe generally dislike manual labor. In this they resemble Americans. In pre-war days virtually all of our unskilled labor came from Italy, Russia and Central and Eastern Europe. Russian immigration now is out of the question."

"One unusual characteristic is noticeable about the new immigration, taken as a whole. Few of the new arrivals now propose to remain permanently in the cities. A very large proportion are going west of the Alleghenies. The number of farmers is very large."

NAPOLEON AND SCOTT SOMEWHAT IN ERROR.

"There is a madman proposing to light London with—what do you suppose?—why, with smoke!"

That's what Sir Walter Scott wrote to a friend when it was first planned to light London with gas. Napoleon said it was "a great folly."

One hundred years ago people were afraid of gas and thought it to be the work of the devil. Later when Westminster Bridge was lighted with gas, people thought the pipes were filled with fire and watched the spectacle dumbfounded. When a lighting system was installed in the House of Commons the members of Parliament, fearful of being burned, would not touch the pipes with ungloved hands.

But that was a hundred years ago.

Today there are 1,200 uses for gas, and it taxes sixty thousand miles of street mains to deliver the gas of the country to its consumers. Forty-five million people in homes, and factories are now served with gas.

Many intellectual men fail for lack of staying stuff. Many are timid and irresolute because they lack the physical driving power; theirs is a shoddy nervous system, a melancholy handicap. Much loose thinking, much rabid and false thinking, is due to loose drilling of the bodily forces in childhood and youth. Enthusiasm, self-confidence, the spirit of adventure, alertness, promptness, unselfishness, quick judgment, are qualities to be attained on the field of games and

AN ELASTIC FIGURE

The woman who wants to appear young must keep her figure not only slender but elastic also. Plumpness means maturity, too much fat over the body destroys all beauty of line and for slender curves substitutes lumps and bulges.

An artist would tell you that the lines of youth are always flowing lines that seem to melt into each other, that gives an impression of action. You will see the same principle in a drawing when you look at a badly done "wooden" figure that seems to live upon the canvas. In the "wooden" picture the lines are stiff, in the well done one they are all lines of action.

Margie—Very few girls wear corsets at 14 years of age and many do not wear them at any age. The girl who stands properly, and dresses in clothing that is not a burden to carry does not need a corset, unless she is very stout. Corsets are being more simplified in lines, conforming to those of the body and so softened that the wearer is not in a straight jacket as was thought proper many years ago. The thing to do, is to put off the day for wearing corsets as long as possible, keeping the body so supple and the lines so youthful, that you will not feel the need of them.

HEALTH TALKS

Most of us are born healthy: it is our way of living that makes us sick.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

While extolling walking, I am not decrying other exercises and sports,—boating, boxing, tennis, baseball, cricket and the like; nor am I forgetting croquet. When judiciously taken, these are all most salutary. Exercise develops and strengthens the mental processes. Hazlitt appreciated that fact. The brain out of which thought is evolved (we know not precisely how) is as much a bodily organ as is the liver or the lungs. Much of our thinking (we do not know how much) is really a physical process during which the vital stores of every organ are drawn upon. The energy which makes clear thinking possible depends largely on the bodily vigor. When physical disease impairs the tissues, the mental processes suffer. We have noted how muscular activity develops both the nervous and the muscular systems. The muscles are the special organs of volition, the one part of the body which the brain can directly command and act on. The feeble-minded child is clumsy in the use of his muscles; the right development of the normal child is indicated by increased accuracy and delicacy of muscle control.

Physical training is, then, to a considerable degree, mental training as well. Much thought (of course not all) that we used to call reason, is just feeding; and much of our conduct, many of our activities, are due more to desire, sentiment and habit, than to innate reason. We lead, to a very considerable extent, a cerebrumless existence. The youth well trained all around, physically and mentally, has his activities well organized for his mature needs. The same is, of course,

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Here is your chance. When it makes contact with your hair, it turns gray or streaked, just a application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, already for sale. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because itarkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft cloth with water and draw this through the hair, taking care to cover every hair; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure of dandruff or prevention of disease.

WALT MASON RIPPLING RHYMES

PLEASANT READING.

Seated by my flaring candle, I digest the daily news, and it treats of crime and scandal, and of dope and smuggled booze. Foolishly I keep inquiring, "Is the whole world staring mad? Aren't people ever tiring of the grawsome and the bad? Oh, this era of abasement! All our bulwarks seem a wreck!" and some buckshot, through the casement, comes and hits me in the neck. All the boys are busy gunning, and they care not who they plug, and the cops are tired of running grisly slayers to the jug. With my humble rushlight burning I peruse the tales of crime, longing for the swift returning of the olden, peaceful time; when in safety one might travel up the highway, far and near, and no shotgun, charged with gravel, with his jaunt would interfere. Motor bandits were unheard of in those days serene and bright: it was seldom we had word of gunmen who would shoot at sight. In the streets, where men assemble, I'm the victim of a scare, and at home I sweat and tremble lest the gunmen find me there; on retiring I am fearful that they'll slay me while I snooze, and on waking I am tearful, least I perish in my shoes. For the boys are busy slaying, and the bullets whiz and whine; oh, that all of us were maying, as in days of auld lang syne!

THE CHILD'S FOOD—II

With three meals a child has a better appetite, much better digestion and thrives far better in consequence than those children whose stomachs are constantly working over-time. Yet some specially delicate children cannot do without a luncheon at 3 or 3:30; then a glass of milk and a biscuit or a cup of broth and Zwieback are right. Or a child may at this time relish instead a scraped raw apple or pear; this is particularly judicious for constipated children. Children recovering from serious illness, will require, according to the doctor's directions, more frequent feeding. In general, good foods for children are: cane sugar, cream, fruit pulp, mashed vegetables, clear soups, pure of vegetables, fish, oysters, lamb, veal, gelatin, beef, turkey, mutton, chicken, squash, beans, oatmeal, graham flour, Boston crackers, peas, graham bread, cornmeal, wheat bread, barley, macaroni, arrowroot, sago, dates, tapioca, molasses, figs, corn, green peas, spinach, stewed fruits, string beans, onions, peaches, pears, tomatoes, cranberries, chocolate, bacon fat, cocoa.

Here are the forbidden foods for the nursery: ham, sausage, pork, salt fish, dried beef, corned beef, goose, duck, broiled or stewed kidneys, liver and bacon, stewed liver, gravies, except dish gravy, baked tomatoes, pickled beets, fried potatoes, carrots, pastries, griddle cakes, cakes, hot biscuits, meat stews, fruits, tea, coffee, liquors (unless indicated by the doctor).

MEALS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN COST ON AVERAGE OF 6 CENTS

Meals for pupils attending the Opportunity School in Christ church parish house cost on an average of six cents each but are served to the children who can afford to pay a trifle, for two cents each, according to an explanation made by Mrs. D. W. Cherry president of the Mothers' Circle of Central school.

Many of the children who are pupils in the Opportunity School, cannot afford to pay even the trifle asked and their meals are served to them free. In addition, other children attending regular classes in the schools are served a warm luncheon at the Opportunity School, because they will not receive a nourishing noon meal at home.

Teachers, text books and other apparatus needed in the two opportunity schools in the city, the one at the parish house, and a smaller one at Spring Hill school, are provided by the school board. The welfare work is looked after by the Mothers' Circles, who also do welfare work in the other schools.

A few days ago an incident brought to light through the opportunity School work resulted in aid being given to a worthy family. A 16-year-old boy whose family moved to Xenia from Adams County has been a pupil at the Opportunity School in order that he might receive instruction that he had missed when he was younger because he was not required to go to school. The boy is bright and had been the support of his mother and young brothers and sisters. Through the Mother's Circle he had been given several odd jobs in connection with his school work. The distressed condition of the family was brought to the attention of the Mothers' Circle several days ago, when the lad asked for help in obtaining work. He said that his little brother was very ill.

Investigation disclosed the family of nine living in one room on a street in the extreme east end of the city.

Miss Helen Evers, Red Cross nurse visited the family as soon as she was notified of their condition, and two physicians were sent to examine the sick child. They found him suffering from acute pulmonary tuberculosis, and arrangements were made to have him taken to the tuberculosis hospital at Springfield. Steps will also be taken to alleviate the distressed condition of the family. The mother is a widow and in poor health.

TODAY'S TALKS

ILLUSION

In the skies of our experiences there are innumerable clouds illusions—beautiful, changing, colorful affairs but so soon swept by some unseen wind to—where? We know not!

What are illusions for then? I have wondered this many a time. And this is what I have decided. Illusions come that we may recognize the real—and be able to handle it with honor when it does come.

The crowd is always attracted by the glitter and the smooth tongue. I often stand and watch the street corner vendor of some article as he paints his pictured bargains in the air. I have smiled at the disappointment of those who bought the pictured articles in their soft substance, and have offered my advice to stick to tried and true.

But cautions as some of us may be, we cannot help but run occasionally into illusions that take us by the arm and lead us their way. And then the thought to bear in mind, is this—that only as we pass through illusions are we able to find the actual and living thing.

Our tendencies are like the roots of a tree—ever reaching out for more room and better nourishment that we may grow stronger and reach higher. Often we deliberately walk into pleasures and deceptions that we know have no lasting benefits within them—but in our pursuit for happiness and a certain sort of contentment, we forget that we must back our desire by worthy and definite aims.

Take it in the field of our affections, must we not keep them as undimmed and pure as possible so that through the maze of darkness we may come out on the other side surely and safely?

In diversity of interest and the forming of new tendencies each day are we able to combat the fighting forces of our nature and thus fortify our lives against every dangerous illusion that may seek to undermine the walls of our desired character.

Illusions! Why not? If we understand what they mean in our development, what can come but better strength and a more rounded experience?

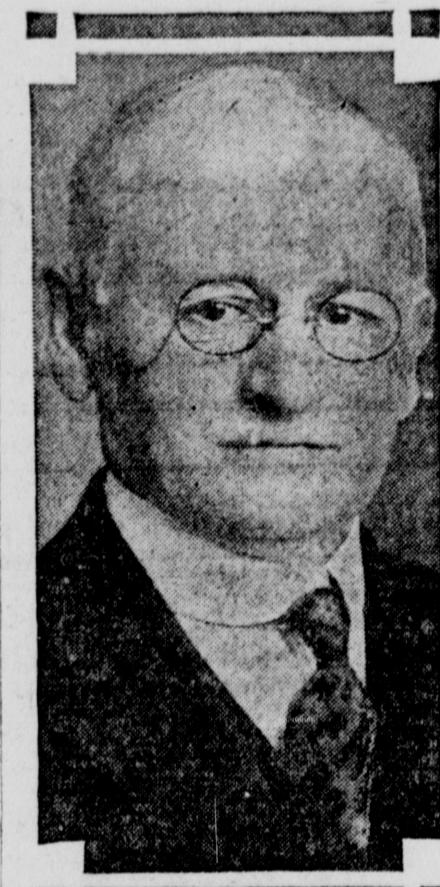

SCARBOROUGH WILL TAKE FEDERAL JOB

Dr. W. S. Scarborough, former president of Wilberforce University, has been asked by the Secretary of Agriculture to take the lead in working out a plan for the study of efficiency and thrift on the part of Negro farmers and their relation to land-ownership.

He will take up his duties in the Department of Agriculture November 1, leaving Xenia Friday of this week.

Dr. Scarborough is uncertain as to how long he will remain in Washington, but expects to be located there for some time.

The salary, Dr. Scarborough said is between $3,600 and $4,000.

BENJAMIN H. KAUFFMAN,
Reading, Pa.

"There's no doubt in my mind that Tanlac saved my wife's life," was the positive statement of Benjamin H. Kauffman, 505 Bingham St., Reading, Pa., popular clothing salesman for the well-known firm of Croll & Keck:

"I was almost desperate from worrying over her condition as she had suffered so long without getting relief and I can hardly believe my own eyes now when I see the change in her. Why, she doesn't show her age by twenty years and declares she never remembers feeling better in her life. Her health was failing steadily for a year as a result of catarrh of the stomach, and I have never seen any body suffer from indigestion and nervousness as she did."

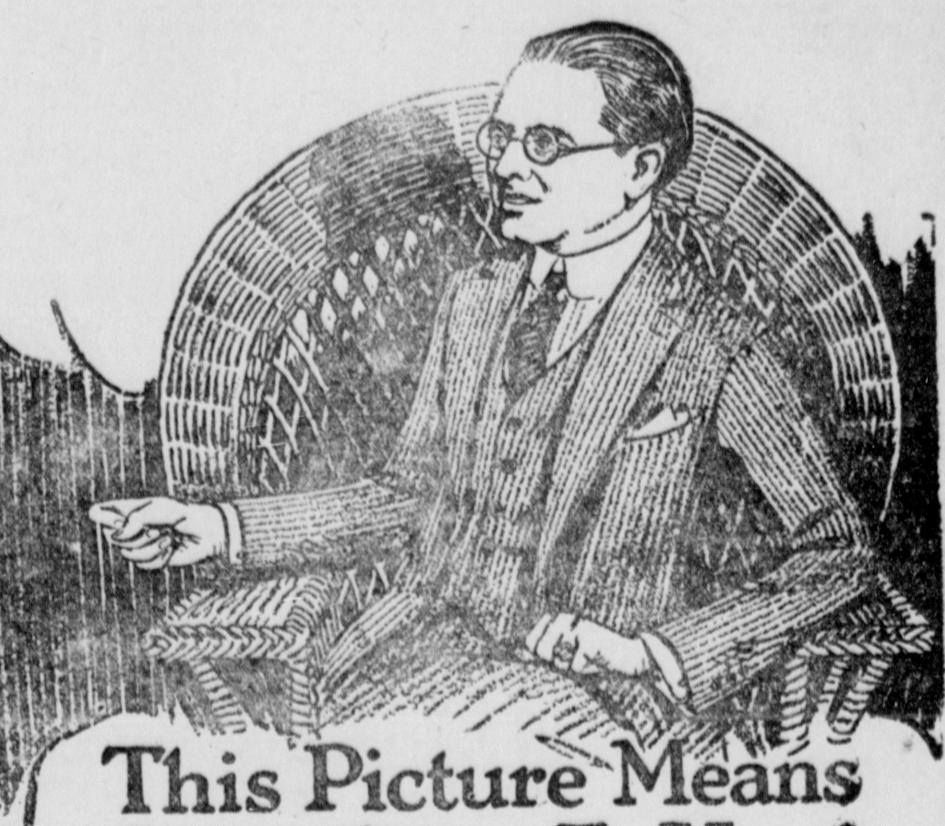

"After a five weeks' course of Tanlac she was like another person, and I'm firmly convinced that years have been added to her life. It makes me shudder now when I think what the result might have been if she hadn't taken Tanlac in time."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and all leading druggists everywhere.

The NEW EDISON

is positively the only phonograph that can sustain the acid test of direct comparison with the living artist. It has given this amazing performance of direct comparison over 5,000 times before over four million people.

This Picture Means Something To You!

THIS picture is sketched from an actual photograph made of Bamboschek, principal conductor of the Metropolitan Opera, listening to the great Muzio sing in comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of her voice. After the comparison, Bamboschek in amazement said:

"I have heard a comparison between Miss Claudia Muzio's voice and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. I consider that the quality of Miss Muzio's living voice and the quality of her RE-CREATED voice are identical."

Is Bamboschek's Judgment Good Enough For You?

The state law provides that teachers may attend such meetings any two days, but this year's sessions will be held Friday and Saturday.

Among speakers on the program are Miss Emily C. Griffith, principal of the Opportunity School, at Denver, Colorado; Prof. W. C. Bagley, of Columbia university, teacher, lecturer and author; Dr. S. Mr. Harding will speak at the conclusion of the musical program, Friday evening.

A general conference will be held, Friday afternoon at three o'clock, at the conclusion of the special conferences. D. H. Old People

A blue serge coat dress was shown with a cape collar of Persian lamb, and a muff of the same fabric—one of those tiny muffs of which the once famous comedienne, Kate Elmer, would have said, "it will grow up by Christmas."

Fur trims many of the smart cloth dresses this season. Fur is an expensive item this season as last winter, but it is the fashion. Bands of seal, beaver or squirrel may be used to carry out the idea of the model shown in the sketch. A clever French dressmaker designed it, and though the effect is that of a full silhouette, the line from shoulder to hem is straight when not drawn in at the waistline by the string belt which is attached at the sides and tied behind. The collar may be worn closed or open, and the sleeve is corded from shoulder to the fur trimming. The model, as exhibited, was of gray broadcloth with squirrel.

A. L. ELEVEN WINS FROM PIQUA TEAM SUNDAY 13 TO 6

With revenge for a defeat suffered at Piqua last year as an added motive, the American Legion football team evened the score at Gatchfield, Sunday afternoon by wallowing Troop F, of the Piqua Cavalry, by the score of 13-6.

The locals scored first in the opening quarter. Buck, Owens, and Fuller contributed three first downs and the yardage to Piqua's seven yard line, where they lost the pellet on downs. Plock punted from his own end zone to Horen who returned the oval to Piqua's 21. A pass, Stephens to Fuller, on the first play, scored the touchdown and Fuller kicked goal, adding the extra point.

Xenia's goal line was endangered at the start of the second quarter, when Horen fumbled Plock's punt on Xenia's 10 yard line. A pass, placed the ball on the five, and an incomplete pass on the last down, gave Xenia the ball. Fuller punting to Retterbush who ran the ball to Xenia's 20. Cain lost five and although the visitors completed a ten yard pass, they lost the ball on Xenia's 12-yard line. Lynn dashed off tackle for 18, to the 32-yard line for Xenia, and a moment later Fuller picked up 55 yards off-tackle for the most sensational run of the game, to Piqua's five yard line. Owens made the touchdown and Fuller missed the goal attempt.

The visitors scored their lone touchdown at the beginning of the last period, after Plock intercepted a pass on the 50. A pass Cain to Kippert netted 30 yards, to Xenia 18-yard line. Another pass failed, but Gina picked up four and then six for first down. Cain added six and then two, and in his third attempt scored. Retterbush missed the goal attempt. Buck, Fuller, Owens, Tullis, and B. Hoag starred for Xenia, while Retterbush, Cain and Myers starred for the visitors.

Xenia made nine first downs to Piqua's seven, and completed one pass out of five attempts, while Piqua used seventeen aerial attempts six of them being good.

MARROWLY ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY AS AUTO TURNS OVER

Five people, who gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. Moore and Miss Hoover, all of Wilmington were scratched and bruised when their automobile was struck by another machine near Zimmerman shortly before five o'clock Sunday evening and turned over in the ditch.

The injured people were brought to the McClelland Hospital here, where it was found that none of their injuries were serious, and they were later able to return to their homes in Wilmington. The accident happened when the party was returning after a trip to Dayton.

The collision occurred near Zimmerman, an automobile approaching from the opposite direction striking a front wheel of the car occupied by the Wilmington party. The machine turned completely upside down in the ditch, throwing the occupants out. The driver of the other car it is said, did not stop.

INCREASE SHOWN IN DEATH RATE

Washington, Oct. 24.—The government's annual report on mortality statistics for 1920, soon to be issued, shows a total of 1,142,578 deaths within the death registration area, representing a rate of 13.1 per 1,000 population as compared with 12.9 in 1919. The 1919 rate was the lowest recorded in any year since establishment of the regulation area in 1900. There was an increase in the death rate from pneumonia and a marked decrease in tuberculosis fatalities.

Fatalities from automobile accidents and injuries increased from 9.4 to 10.4 per 100,000.

GAMES FOR YOUR HALLOWEEN PARTY

The following games are all appropriate to play at your Halloween Party:

Ships of Fate: Hollow out walnut shells and in each half-shell secure a small candle upright by means of sealing wax. Two guests at a time will see these little boats in a large tub of water. If the two boats knock together when the water is agitated, ripples (the hostess must keep stirring it with a small stick) the two who are sailing their will have a quarrel. If the boats sail in different directions the two players hold different opinions upon all subjects. If the boats sail in the same direction, the two players are very much alike in character. If the boats are capsized, the players are facing financial misfortune; if, on the other hand, they sail from one side of the tub to the other, the two players have financial success in store for them. If the boats seem undecided in which directions they wish to go, the players have the habit of changing their minds frequently. Write these interpretations on a large card and rang them near Zimmerman shortly before five o'clock Sunday evening and turned over in the ditch.

The Witches Fortunes: Dress up a small doll as a witch and seat her beside two large bowls. These bowls are filled to the top with dry leaves through which are hidden slips of paper bearing written "fortunes." One bowl is for the men, the other for the women. In the men's bowl will be such sentences as this: "The one you have golden hair;" "Brown eyes will win your heart;" "You will be a damsel of another land;" "You will wed very suddenly;" "Marriage is around the corner;" "The girl you love will help you to succeed;" "An economical wife will be your blessed portion;" "Tall anduburn-haired will your loved one be;" "You will quarrel often with your sweetheart." Such sentences as these will be found in the woman's bowl: "He will be true to you until death;" "You are secretly loved;" "Your husband-to-be will soon arrive upon the scene;" "Ten months from now look for a big surprise;" "You will wear a wedding ring soon;" "You will go to Europe on your honey-moon;" "He may be poor, but he is pure gold;" "Don't mind his tempers, for he worships you;" "You will receive a letter from your intended." Men and women will take turns drawing one slip and reading it aloud. Make up more of these sentences to suit yourself.

Pumpkin Fates: Suspend a large uncut pumpkin on a string from a chandelier or in a doorway. Have this pumpkin decorated with the picture of a ring, a piece of money, a thimble, a dollar sign, a horse-shoe, and a crown (draw these things on it with ink).

Give each player, in turn, a long hatpin and tell him or her to try to spear one of the pictures as the pumpkin is spun around. The dollar sign means that great wealth will be won; the coin, moderate financial success is ahead; the ring that wedding is the players fate; the thimble that the player will go unwed, and the horseshoe that the player will be lucky for a year. The crown represents fame.

"Aren't you ever shocked, Joan?"

"Me! mercy no! I delight in disinterested people, they are sure to be interesting."

Inwardly Margaret shrank. This was worse than the gambling of her young girlhood. That Joan should so frankly express her delight in dissipated persons was almost beyond belief.

"Is Dean Tennant dissipated?"

Margaret asked when she recovered from her surprise.

"Of course! All the girls I know are just crazy over him. He's interest-

JOAN RELATES AN EXPERIENCE WITH MARRIED MAN

CHAPTER 71.

"I am a bit worried about you Joan," Margaret said one day when she had gone unexpectedly to the studio, and encountered a medley of young people, nondescript artists, writers and others.

Joan planted a kiss on the end of her mother's nose, and said:

"As for example, she demanded in a tone full of explosive impudence.

"Oh, I can't feel it is so very serious," Margaret was a bit flustered at the impudent tone and manner, but I do wish you knew more young people like Hortense Thompson, and dear little Gloria Freeman. They were such wholesome youngsters."

"They don't grow in New York. It's too hectic for their sort," calmly replied Joan.

"And boys like Malcolm Frost and Lorraine Carpenter," purposely Margaret omitted Ted Walters.

"They would be so awfully young in New York that one would need to buy a cradle for them."

"You aren't so very old yourself, Joan."

"I'm a Methuselah compared with the boys and girls up home." Joan never failed to call Wolcott "home" when talking to her mother. "The boys especially. Why it would make Lorraine sick to smoke I am sure. And all of them would be shocked at the dissipations of New York boys."

"Aren't you ever shocked, Joan?"

"Me! mercy no! I delight in disinterested people, they are sure to be interesting."

Inwardly Margaret shrank. This was worse than the gambling of her young girlhood. That Joan should so frankly express her delight in dissipated persons was almost beyond belief.

"Is Dean Tennant dissipated?"

Margaret asked when she recovered from her surprise.

"Of course! All the girls I know are just crazy over him. He's interest-wife, and I told him I shouldn't see him any more."

"What did he say to that... Margaret was curious over this amazing daughter of hers.

"That I had spoiled his life, that he loved me as he never had or would love anyone again. But I saw him about a week afterward in the Ritz with a girl making love to her to beat the band. He didn't see me, and when I went out I passed his table purposely, and told him sotto voce: 'that I didn't see him had decayed if he had spoiled his life.'

Margaret screamed with laughter, while she said to herself:

"She'll come out all right! I always knew she would."

Tomorrow—Margaret Is Disturbed Because of Dean Tennant.
